CZARA Team:

To address the last "action item" in Jayne's e-mail regarding landslides, I have put together a comparison of the OR and WA forest practice rules that address landslides. As you can see, this is not in a "talking point" format but I do intend to make it into one. I wanted to use this to brief you today to help us gain a better understanding of the differences.

If you have any questions, please give me a call.
